Dear Friends,

Time and again, research conducted by the Tomás Rivera Policy Institute (TRPI) has revealed an overwhelming majority of Latino parents and families value a college education, yet they perceive the cost of higher education to be prohibitive. Many families are not aware that numerous scholarships and grants are available specifically to Latino students, and every year thousands of dollars go unclaimed.

Today, most scholarships are publicized online, and yet we realize that it takes time to research scholarship opportunities and that computer access is often limited in Latino homes.

In 2006, TRPI released its inaugural scholarship guide for Latino students in California, sparking an unprecedented demand and becoming the most-accessed report in TRPI history. More than 50,000 copies of the directory were viewed online in just four months.

Building on that success, we are proud to announce that this 2007 publication is now nationwide in scope. Thanks to the generous funding of The John Randolph Haynes and Dora Haynes Foundation, The Sallie Mae Fund, and The Walt Disney Company, we have assembled an up-to-date directory of scholarships that are offered specifically for Latino students throughout the entire United States.

Best of luck to you as you work to find the financial support you deserve.

Sincerely,

Estimados amigos:

Estudios realizados por el Instituto Político de Tomás Rivera (TRPI, siglas en inglés) constantemente revelan que aunque una mayoría de padres de familia latinas valoran una educación universitaria, ellos perciben el costo de esta educación prohibido. Muchas familias no saben que hay numerosas becas y 'dinero gratis' disponibles específicamente para estudiantes latinos, y cada año miles de estos dólares no son reclamadas.

Hoy en día, la mayoría de las becas están publicadas en Internet, pero comprendemos que toma tiempo investigar estas oportunidades, y que acceso a una computadora es limitado en varios hogares latinos.

En el año 2006, TRPI estreno su directorio de becas para estudiantes latinos de California, resultando en una demanda sin precedente y convirtiéndose en el reporte más solicitado en la historia de TRPI. En solo cuatro meses, más de 50,000 copias del directorio fueron vistas en nuestra página de Internet.

Aparte de este éxito, estamos orgullosos en anunciar que el directorio que hemos preparado para el año 2007 es de alcance nacional. Gracias a la generosidad financiera de The John Randolph Hayes and Dora Hayes Foundation, Sallie Mae Fund, y The Walt Disney Company, hemos recopilado un nuevo directorio de becas ofrecidas específicamente a estudiantes latinos de todas partes de los Estado Unidos.

Les deseamos buena suerte en la búsqueda para encontrar la ayuda financiera que ustedes merecen.

Atentamente,

Harry P. Pachon, Ph.D.

Get the Money You Need!

What are scholarships?

Scholarships are free money available to off-set the cost of school. Students have to apply for scholarships, which are awarded on a case-by-case basis, often based on merit. If a student receives a scholarship, it does not have to be paid back.

What do you need to have to qualify for a scholarship?

Every scholarship in the following pages has varying requirements – including its own application, which you will need to get and complete – but it is a good idea to pull together a folder of the following information (or as much of it as you can), as almost all scholarships will ask for some combination of these things:

- Letter(s) of reference
- Writing sample
- Resume
- Official transcripts
- One or two essays
- Copy of Student Aid Report (SAR - see below)
- Parent and Student Tax Returns and W-2 Forms
- GPA Certification Form
- Enrollment Verification Form
- Copy of Financial Award Letter

Beware of scholarship scams.

Be wary of scholarship applications that require an “application fee.” Also proceed with caution with scholarship matching services that guarantee results and sales pitches that describe themselves as financial aid workshops or seminars.

Do you need to be a citizen or legal permanent resident to qualify for a scholarship?

Some scholarships require proof of citizenship or residency in order to qualify for a scholarship, but others do not. Throughout this guide, scholarships marked with the icon ● require some kind of residency requirement. Scholarships marked with the icon ○ do not. Both types of scholarships are listed separately in the back of this directory.

Where can you get more printed information about paying for college?

Call the federal government for a free guide, in English or in Spanish, to student financial aid: 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243). It also is available online at www.studentaid.ed.gov, a website offered in both English and Spanish. This guide is an excellent comprehensive “how to” resource.

Additional free resources on planning and paying for college can be downloaded from The Sallie Mae Fund website, www.thesalliemaefund.org. The site includes toolkits, checklists, and more—in Spanish and in English.

Are you entering college next year? Complete the FAFSA as soon as possible!

If you do nothing else, complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), immediately after January 1 of your senior year of high school and every year thereafter you intend to continue your college education. It is a form used by most schools to determine financial aid, and money is awarded on a first-come, first-served basis. After you submit your FAFSA, you will be sent a Student Aid Report (SAR), which tells how much money your family is expected to contribute to your college education for one year. This helps schools and scholarship organizations know how much money you will need in financial aid.

PADRES: ¡ayuden a sus hijos a obtener el dinero que necesitan para asistir la universidad!

¿Qué son las becas?

Las becas ofrecen dinero gratuito para cubrir el costo educativo. El estudiante sólo tiene que solicitar la beca, lo cual se concede dependiendo de cada caso y, a menudo, por mérito de calificaciones. Si un estudiante recibe una beca, no tiene que devolver el dinero.

¿Qué necesitas tener para obtener una beca?

Todas las becas que se incluyen en las siguientes páginas tienen distintos requisitos, incluso su propia solicitud, el cual deberá obtener y completar. Es una buena idea preparar una carpeta con la siguiente información (o con lo más información posible) debido a que todas las becas piden algunas de las siguientes cosas:

- Carta o cartas de recomendación
- Una muestra de escritura
- Un currículum
- Documento de calificaciones oficial
- Uno o dos ensayos
- Copia del Informe de Ayuda Estudiantil (SAR, siglas en inglés)
- Declaraciones de impuestos y formularios W-2 del estudiante y de padres de familia
- Formulario de certificación del promedio académico (GPA, siglas en inglés)
- Formulario de verificación de matriculación
- Copia de la carta financiera otorgada

Cuidado con las estafas relacionadas con las becas

Tenga cuidado con las becas que requieren un "honorario de solicitud". Asimismo, no se deje engañar por servicios de búsqueda de becas que garantizan resultados ni por aquellos que se describen a sí mismos como talleres o seminarios de ayuda financiera.

¿Se necesita ser ciudadano o residente permanente legal para poder obtener una beca?

Algunas becas requieren prueba de ciudadanía o residencia para poder calificar por becas, pero otras no. A través de este directorio, las becas marcadas con el símbolo ● requieren ciertos requisitos con respecto a la residencia. Las becas marcadas con el símbolo ○ no tienen requisitos. Ambos tipos de becas se encuentran en la parte posterior de este directorio.

¿Dónde se puede obtener más información sobre el pago de la educación universitaria?

Llame al gobierno federal para obtener una guía gratuita, en inglés o en español, sobre ayuda financiera estudiantil: 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243). Ésta guía es un recurso excelente que detalla cómo solicitar ayuda.

The Sallie Mae Fund tiene una variedad de recursos educativos gratuitos, en inglés y en español, en como preparar y pagar por la universidad. Puede bajar en su computadora los materiales o imprimir una forma a www.salliemaefund.org.

¿Su hijo o hija ingresa a la universidad el año próximo? Complete la solicitud gratuita de ayuda estudiantil federal (FAFSA) lo más pronto posible.

Si no realiza nada más, complete la solicitud gratuita inmediatamente después del 1 de enero del último año de preparatoria y cada año después si piensa continuar la educación universitaria. Es un formulario que utilizan la mayoría de las escuelas para determinar la ayuda financiera, la cual se otorga a los primeros que la soliciten.

Luego de presentar el formulario gratuito, recibirá un informe de ayuda estudiantil (SAR), el cual determina cuanto la familia tendrá que pagar en su primer año de escuela. Esto ayuda a las escuelas y organizaciones de becas a determinar cuál será la ayuda financiera que necesitará.

About this directory...

This directory contains all organizations in the United States identified by the Tomás Rivera Policy Institute (TRPI) that award grants and scholarships specifically targeting Latino students. Additionally, TRPI has included the largest national organizations (in total dollars awarded) that grant scholarships for which Latino students may qualify.

To be included in this guide, scholarship programs must have current, accessible contact and application information. They must specifically target Latino students in their award criteria. Exceptions include the largest national donors, migrant farm worker scholarships that often award their monies to Latinos, and scholarships making an effort to attract Latino students, such as by reserving awards for minorities. Excluded from the guide are scholarships requiring acceptance into a particular institution, fellowships without scholarship money, and awards designed only for dependents of employees at a specific organization.

TRPI acknowledges that new scholarship opportunities geared for Latino students are becoming available on a continual basis, and the institute urges readers to submit new scholarship listings or corrections to TRPI.

TRPI also encourages students to check for scholarships from colleges or universities they are attending, as they may offer institution-specific scholarships.

Other considerations when using this guide: If the GPA requirement of a scholarship is listed N/A, academic achievement still may be a consideration. Also bear in mind that generally students will have to meet some minimum requirements to renew and retain any awards. It will become clear during the application process if a scholarship is renewable and how to renew it.

Finally, students should be aware of potential changes in sponsors, deadlines, or criteria by confirming scholarships early in the application process with the sponsoring organizations either online, on the telephone, or in the mail.

Developing this directory...

TRPI is proud to expand this popular guide for Latino high school, undergraduate, and graduate students in the United States. The original project was born of a 2005 TRPI regional study that identified all the organizations in Southern California where Southern California Latino students and parents could receive information about or apply for college scholarships and grants. Among the outcomes of the study was a recommendation for organizations to actively disseminate hard copies of online data, as the online scholarship search process was found to be time-consuming and complicated.

The TRPI study also found that the difficulties of online scholarship searches were compounded by the reality that many Latino households do not have Internet access. Any online search is likely to be undertaken at a library or school, where time on a shared computer is limited.

In 2006, in response to these findings, TRPI released its first printed scholarship directory which offered scholarships specifically for California Latino students. Extraordinary demand for that guide inspired the institute and its sponsors to bring the project to a national level.

This year, TRPI is pleased to offer a nationwide guide to help Latino students across the country apply for the money they need and deserve in the face of increasing costs of higher education.

It should be noted that, while TRPI researchers recognized that there would be value including all organizations to which students could apply for scholarships in the United States, such an undertaking was beyond the scope of the project.
